THE LONG ISLAND AQUARIUM SOCIETY INC.

The Long Island Aquarium Society Inc. (LIAS) is the oldest organization devoted to tropical fish on Long Island. It is a not for profit corporation dedicated to the breeding and showing of aquatic life, to promote interest, exchange ideas and encourage the breeding and showing of aquatic fishes. The membership is made up of men, women, and children of all levels of expertise, including nationally renowned individuals who are eager to share their expertise in all phases of aquarium management and fish breeding.

LIAS meets at 8 PM on the third Friday of the month except the months of July and August. Meetings feature programs covering all phases of fish keeping by noted guest speakers. A bowl show is featured every month, with ribbons awarded for 1st, 2nd, 3rd and honorable mention, culminating in the annual Bowl Show Champion Award. A get-together, social atmosphere is enjoyed by all during refreshments. This is the time members “talk fish”, exchange ideas and secrets, invite each other to see their fish rooms, trade fish and establish friendships. The meetings resume with the auction of rare and home bred fish or equipment at bargain prices. After the auction there is the raffle of donated materials. Visitors are always welcome and of course are encouraged to participate in the auction and raffle. The nominal membership dues allow voting privileges, a subscription to the award winning Paradise Press (LIAS official monthly publication), and an ID card entitling the holder to discounts at local pet shops.

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the Long Island Aquarium Society. This booklet is both your introduction to the club and it's programs, and your reference book if you have a question about the rules of the programs. Please take care of this booklet and file it where you can find it when you need it. Your first copy is free when you join the club or when an updated version is printed. There is a charge for any additional copies requested.

The information in this booklet will allow you to participate both for your own enjoyment and to benefit the club. The first part of the book explains how meetings and activities are run. The second part contains a copy of our by-laws. These are the basis of operation of our club and much of the responsibility of the officers and committee chairpersons is summed up in these pages.

There is room for improvement in all organizations and this one is no exception. please tell an officer if you have a suggestion to improve the operation or service of the club. Complaining to a friend doesn't do the club any good. Perhaps you should attend the next board meeting and explain your idea to the board.

Become an active member in the club. You will learn more from your participation by meeting more hobbyists who can answer questions you might have. You will also help spread the work so no one person will be overburdened. Typically a certain group of people will do most of the work until they get frustrated and give up. There is always someone to take over the work but normally they don't come forward because they thought the others were doing such a good job that they weren't needed.

One area in which you may want to participate is in the elected officers. They only have a one year term and the work is not complicated. Experienced people are always around if you need help. You do not have to be an expert on fish to be an officer. Too often an officer would like a change after holding office for a few years but since no one else will run they accept again.

Committees are another place where new blood is continually needed. Most of the committees are general labor type positions with a little creativity once in a while. There are only two committees requiring experienced hobbyists in the chair position. They are the publication and show committees, however, plenty of inexperienced labor is also required. Your contributions will be greatly appreciated.

The society encourages breeding and other educational activities by awards programs such as the bowl show, breeders award, annual show, and the society publication, Paradise Press.

GENERAL MEMBERSHIP MEETING

LIAS is an organization for hobbyists to get together and share knowledge and experiences. The general membership meeting is held on the third Friday of the month. Meetings start at 8:00 PM but many people start arriving earlier to set up the meeting room and the bowl show entries. All bowl show entries must be in place by 8:00.

One of the first things is a drawing for the door prize, awarded to a member that is present. Important issues and announcements of upcoming events and any other business needing the club's attention shall follow. The main event of the evening is a guest speaker on some aspect of the hobby showing slides on the topic for the night. The program usually lasts approximately an hour with a question and answer session following. Refreshments follow the program. This is the time when members get together and socialize. The bowl show is judged during the break and the awards presented after the break. Raffle tickets are sold throughout the break so be sure to have yours before it's over. The meeting resumes, bowl show awards are presented and any judging comments are reviewed so we all learn what judges look for in a contestant.

A mini-auction of donated fish and equipment follows. A member has the option of either donating items with 100% of the proceeds going to LIAS or splitting the proceeds 50/50 with LIAS. Donors share of the proceeds shall be paid at the following general meeting. The moneys collected go to the club so a special salute of thanks goes to those members who regularly donate fish for the auction. If so desired a minimum bid for an item in the auction will be honored. The seller will have the option of taking the item back if the bid is not met. Otherwise the item is sold for whatever it will bring.

The last item of the night is awarding the raffle prizes, the room is returned to normal amid bowl show breakdown and parting fish stories.

BOARD MEETINGS

The board of trustees is the governing body of LIAS. It is responsible for the financial management of the club as well as planning all of the clubs activities. The board meets once a month to plan discuss and review the activities and programs. They do this to maintain and improve the club. The board is made up of officers and appointed members but the meetings are open to all members.

The board meeting is also a continuation of the general meeting. The club business occupies most of the evening. Meetings are sometimes held at a members home including a tour of their fish tanks. This is the place where new ideas for doing something in the fish room get exchanged or invented. The work gets done and there is a large amount of fun along the way.

The president supervises the meetings. There will typically be a discussion of possible future programs or special events and a report from the treasurer. Committees will report on their progress.

The annual auction is a topic that will require one or more special meetings. If there is to be a show ,this topic will be addressed at board meetings. Budgets for these events will be established by the board.

Board meetings are held the week after the general meeting.

You can attend if you are a member of the club. Please be sure to let a board member know you will be attending and be prepared to get involved. Wouldn't you like to have a say in what happens in your club?

BOWL SHOW RULES

The bowl show is a min-fish display held at each general meeting. LIAS rewards participation by ribbons and points towards Hobbyist of the Year and towards a plaque for most bowl show points accrued by a member during the calendar year.

1. The bowl show is open to all members in good standing.
2. All entries must be in place before the meeting starts. No entries accepted after this time.
3. No more than three entries per person per month.
4. One fish shall constitute an entry, either egglayer or livebearer.
5. Awards will be given to 1st, 2nd, 3rd place and honorable mention. Points towards the annual bowl show competition shall be as follows
1st place 7 points, 2nd place 5 points, 3rd place 3 points, honorable mention 1 point.
6. All tanks or bowls must be flat faced (i.e. drum bowl) and clean. They must be bare, no gravel, plants or backgrounds. Heaters and or filters will be permitted if necessary for the showing of very sensitive species-i.e. Discus or marine fish.
7. There is no charge to enter the bowl show.

PARADISE PRESS

The Paradise Press is the publication of the LIAS. It is used to keep the members informed about club activities and to communicate lessons learned. When the aquarium hobby was in its infancy, the hobbyist was the one responsible for the major breakthroughs in maintenance and breeding of the many now common tropical fish. The small club journal has often recorded history making spawnings long before the trade magazines. Since the hobby has become large enough to be considered an industry, many hobbyists feel that the large companies are the only ones that can make contributions to the further growth of the hobby. Nothing could be further from the truth! The hobbyist is still the one to experiment to get his / her fish to spawn for fun and challenge, rather than making a profit.

The editor is responsible for putting together a publication each month. He uses articles written by the membership and reprints from other society journals. Your fellow members would rather read an article written by someone they know than one by a stranger. Consider writing a contribution to the publication; it will make the editors job a lot easier. The hobbyist who is interested in seeing the hobby expand is going to help others learn how to be successful.

Share your adventures with the rest of the club members and others in the hobby. The editor and members do not expect your writing to be of professional quality. If you are not sure if the idea you have for an article is a good one, ask the editor. He will be continually receiving journals from other clubs and he will be able to tell you if the topic has been covered recently. He may also be able to help you isolate your idea. Remember to have a single purpose or topic in an article to make it clear. Then just write the article as if you were telling your best friend. This is not difficult but remember that it might take three or four drafts to get the article in the form that you like. Set it aside for a week and then reread it. Make sure it is what you want to say. Maybe you can let someone read it over for comments. The Paradise Press is yours to use, so use it to its fullest. You will learn more and so will we.

BREEDER'S AWARD PROGRAM

The Breeder's Award Program (BAP) of the Long Island Aquarium Society Inc. has been in existence since January 1979. The BAP is a hobbyist oriented program with the object of rewarding members for the successful spawning and rearing of fish. Several categories of participation are available so this program will appeal to a wide spectrum of members. The categories are as follows: BAPJ-Junior Hobbyist; BAPH- Hobbyist; BAPS - Specialty Breeder.

SECTION 1. RULES

1. Participation in the BAP is open to all LIAS members in good standing and at no charge.
2. The prospective BAP participant must fill out the registration form choosing the category in which they wish to participate and return same to the BAP chairperson. This form will be kept on file with the committee. A participant may choose both the BAPH and BAPS categories while a junior is limited to the BAPJ category.
3. Fish must be the participant's own and spawned at the participant's facility.
4. Accumulative standings and achievements will be published periodically in the society's newsletter. Achievement awards will be presented at general membership meetings. Points earned will be considered in determining the LIAS Hobbyist of the Year (HOY) award.
5. Each year the BAP participant accumulating the most BAP points for only that calendar year will receive the Breeder of the Year award acknowledging that achievement. This annual award is based solely on the BAP points awarded for all spawning verified in that calendar year, not cumulative point standings.
6. Each BAP participant is responsible for keeping accurate records regarding, but not limited to, the scientific name of the fish spawned, dates of spawning, hatching and free swimming. If needed, the committee will assist the participant in identifying their fish. Unidentified fish as well as crosses between two different species or hybrids will not be awarded points.
7. All spawning claims must be reported as soon as possible to a member of the BAP committee. A suitable witness will be named and arrangements made to witness the breeding pair and fry as soon after free-swimming as possible. If one or both parents die they must be preserved for witnessing. A minimum of 10 fry must be raised to 60 days to gain credit.
8. The Committee reserves the right to revise these rules in accordance with the By-laws. All decisions of the committee shall be final and binding.
9. A species may be reclassified as more information becomes available to the committee. The reclassification will become effective immediately if no points have been awarded for that species during the current year. Otherwise, reclassification will take effect the next year. These reclassifications have no effect on points awarded in previous years.
10. Sub-species will be considered a different species. Color varieties/morphs will not be considered as a different species.

SECTION 2. THE COMMITTEE

1. The committee shall consist of a Chairperson and a minimum of two other LIAS members in good standing.
2. The chairperson will be appointed by the President with BOT approval. The chairperson will be responsible for the selection of the additional members of the committee. Contact the chairperson if you are interested in being a committee member.
3. The chairperson will be responsible for maintaining all records of verified spawning and related achievements, and point standings.

SECTION 6. POINT SCHEDULE

The committee would appreciate feedback. All class placements are best effort decisions as many reference sources disagree on the difficulty of spawning and raising certain fish. Your experiences with these fish will help in reviewing the point schedule. Only major discrepancies may warrant a change.

The Point Schedule follows:

SECTION 7. POINT SCHEDULE

NOTE: This is not a complete list of fish available in our BAP but rather a list of those fish to which points have been assigned. Any fish that are spawned by a participant in the program and are not on the list will be assigned a point value and added to the list.
